

Scott Patton Kentucky Lake Fishing Report: 11-7-15

Scottpattonfishing.com

The lake is at 354.31

Water Temp is in the 65

Book your Fall fishing trips now!

Need help pre-fishing for your tournament, I have fished BASS and FLW my whole life, I can save you time and money!

It's a great time of year to fish Kentucky Lake, Don't miss out!

Tournament prep and map marking also available.

There's not a lot of changes at all, the lake and weather has been steady. I have still caught them pretty good this week fishing the grass flats, Not that much has changed.

I'm still fishing a Bass Pro Shops Kermey frog in black or a black and chartreuse color. I'm fishing this bait on 40lb test Seaguar Kanzen braid, with a Lews 7.1 reel and flipping stick. Most of the bass I'm catching are in 1 to 2 foot of water. I'm basically fishing grass and listening for the bait to make a smacking noise in the grass, or movement under the mat. Whenever you here the bait smacking under the mat you better get your frog rod out and go frogging. I don't think this pattern will last much longer, probably another cold front will push this bait out and the bass will follow. But I'm still catching a few and it's a fun way to catch them.

The other pattern is fishing grass in 3 to 5 foot depths. I'm fishing on top of the grass with a Rat I trap type bait in Bag5 Blue glimmer and the NEW Silver Bone pattern. I'm fishing it on a 7ft Lews glass rod with 14lb Seaguar AbrazX a 7.1 Lews reel. I am fishing the trap fairly fast, trying to tick the taller clumps.

I have also been catching them on a white spinnerbait and a shock blade. I'm fishing them on a 7ft Lews rod and reel with 20lb Seaguar Abraxs.

I am fishing the mid section of bays and depending on the day I will fish the outside edge and also up on the grass flat. I think the bass are just adjusting to the changes in fronts. I am also fishing main lake flats, if the wind hasn't muddied them up. This has been the problem this time of year.

If I am fishing during a cold front I will flip a jig or a ZOOM, Z –craw in green pumpkin with a ¾ ounce Pro Tungsten weight on 20lb test Fluorocarbon and a flipping stick.

Make sure to contact me to book your fall fishing trip, from now till December.
scottpattonfishing.com
731-227-9499

Ledge and Electronics Class, on the water!

Learn and get confidence by catching fish on the ledges

If you're new to Kentucky Lake or just haven't been able to figure out how to fish the hundreds of miles of ledges that it has to offer. Then this class is for you. Fishing the ledges is something a lot of anglers struggle with. Understanding what ledges hold fish, when they hold fish and why they hold fish is something I can teach you. I will help you eliminate 90% of the lake in a short time. See what type of areas hold fish and how to find the bait.

Get on schools of fish and get them fired up! This is some of my favorite techniques on this amazing lake. Just give me a call or email me at scottpattonfishing@yahoo.com

Cell-731-227-9499

Also I will be guiding this January and February on Lake TOHO and Kissimmee in Florida, I will be shiner fishing and artificial so if you like to book a trip contact me.

Web: scottpattonfishing.com

Good luck and remember to wear your life jacket with the kill switch attached.

Sponsors-Nitro, Mercury Outboards, Renegade Marine, Under Armor, ZOOM,
Kentucky Battery Outlet, Lowrance, Lews, Renewal by Andersen, renewalky.com,
SeaGuar, Bass Pro Shop, Pro Tungsten, Skyline Construction, Motor guide, Power
Pole, Rat L Trap, Bag 5 baits